FOCUS ON JAPAN

4 Serving in the Land of the Rising Sun

Life is busy and the missions are challenging for the 2,000 soldiers of U.S. Army, Japan.

10 Aviators in Asia

As the only Army aviation element in Japan, the 78th Aviation Battalion does a little bit of everything.

12 Comrades in Kure

Working together, U.S. and Japanese personnel of the 83rd Ordnance Battalion provide support throughout the Pacific.

FEATURES

18 Training Army Mariners

At Fort Eustis, Va., the Transportation School's Marine and Terminal Training Department turns out deck-operations and engineering specialists for the Army's large but little-known watercraft fleet.

24 Earth Day Pullout

Here are some great ideas on how to help protect the environment while still accomplishing the mission.

"An Army

Happy Birthday Reserve 93 Years Old

28 Earth-Friendly Training

Fort A.P. Hill, Va., hosted an Armywide conference on how to preserve and protect the training lands so vital to mission success.

30 What's Up With "An Army of One"?

A hit with its intended audience, the new recruiting campaign has some other soldiers scratching their heads.

36 A Presence in Bosnia

National Guard soldiers from North Carolina and Oklahoma played a new and highly visible role in the NATO force attempting to keep the peace in Bosnia.

43 Bridging the River

National Guard and Army Reserve engineers joined forces to beat the clock while spanning the Arkansas River.

44 The Reserve Turns 93

We salute the people and events that have shaped the history of the youngest of the Army's three components — which traces its long and colorful history to April 1908.
